

18th San Servolo Advanced Epilepsy Course

Bridging Basic with Clinical Epileptology (7) Accelerating translation in epilepsy research

July 20– 31, 2020
San Servolo (Venice) Italy

Course Directors: Aristeia Galanopoulou (US) and Michele Simonato (I)

The 7th edition of the Advanced Epilepsy Course Bridging Basic with Clinical Epileptology is addressed to neuroscientists, neurologists and other experts with a documented background in epilepsy research. The main objective is to train attendees to improve the critical competence necessary to design an effective research project/activity in the field of epilepsy. The Course offers lectures, interactive seminars, workshops and breakout sessions; a research project will be developed by student groups on a subject defined and assigned by the Course Directors. The progress of the project will be evaluated daily during group discussions with faculty members. Each research project will be collectively discussed and evaluated during the last day of the Course.

Faculty: Giuliano Avanzini, Christophe Bernard, Edward Bertram, Marco de Curtis, Jerome Jr Engel, Aristeia Galanopoulou, Vadym Gnatkovsky, Premysl Jiruska, Andrey Mazarati, Istvan Mody, Solomon Nico Moshé, Jeffrey Noebels, Terence O'Brien, Michele Simonato, Eugen Trinkka, Matthew Walker, Helen Cross, Mike Johnson, Nicola Marchi, Asla Pitkanen, Heidrun Potschka, Rod Scott, Roberto Spreafico, Laura Tassi, Annamaria Vezzani.
